

Vink Support for cow's head

Medicine can easily be administered and treatment of the cow's head is possible without danger to herdsman or animal.

When the cow is held in the feeding crush, put the apparatus around the cow's head by moving the support upwards and hook it on the upper bar of the feeding crush.

